205									STRATEGY: "A good deal of your focus [FAF] is on how the technological infrastructure in a number of countries is a threat to the environment, and how this can lead to the formation of a negative image of these countries. My staff has relayed to me your theory that in both political and economic decision-making, world communities must consider the environmental factor and the degree of risk, and that cultural development ought not to run counter to environmental safety as culture and environment are interrelated." (A letter of support to the Fermata Arts Foundation from U.S. Senator Joe Lieberman, dated October 27, 2011)											At the School of Forestry and Environmental Studies, Yale University.
